NEVADA HIGH SCHOOL

NEVADA, MISSOURI

VOLUME 31

FOREWORD

This is Nevada High School—a changing, complex system of education—a dominate building accustomed to burning midnight oil—a place where thoughts are shared and opinions formed—an organized network of clubs—a composite of teachers, books, and students—a myriad of achievements—an embodiment of emotions—a tabernacle of dreams—a harmony of voices and music—a theater of plays—a museum of art—a descending path to failure—a stairway to success—a marker of time.

We of the 1968 NEVAMO staff have recognized NHS to be all of this and more. Daily, we have collected, sorted, and assembled the things that made NHS unique in the 1967-68 school year. We discovered that the pulse of school life had quickened, that the challenges were harder to meet, that more was being demanded from students and teachers than ever before. Yet, there is one element above all others that made NHS 1967-68 different from any year in the past or any year yet to come. That one element is you. You as a person set 1967-68 apart. Your presence here made this year a time to be remembered.

We of the NEVAMO staff have attempted to preserve in print and pictures the happenings of the past year. Not all of the following pages contain highlights or spectacular events. Many of them speak softly of quiet times and lonely moments. We have given you what we believe to be the truth about Nevada High School—1967-68—the marker of time.

1968 ... The Time of Our

Nineteen sixty-eight could be any year, at any school, in any town. It is unique because it is 1968, Nevada High School, Nevada, Missouri. We come every day, a tide of students nearly 1100 strong, to give identity to NHS. This rambling monster of brick and steel would be merely an empty shell without the life-substance of minds and bodies. This school reflects the time of our lives, a time measured in countless ways. At NHS time is measured by the ringing of bells, by the swift, yet subtle changing of freshmen to seniors. Time changes each thing it touches. People are not exempt from this change. We look around us at familiar faces, the freshmen girls in P.E., the boys at change of sixth-period class, the kids in study hall. We remember them because they are the NHS of 1968. We remember them because this is the time of our lives.

Lives

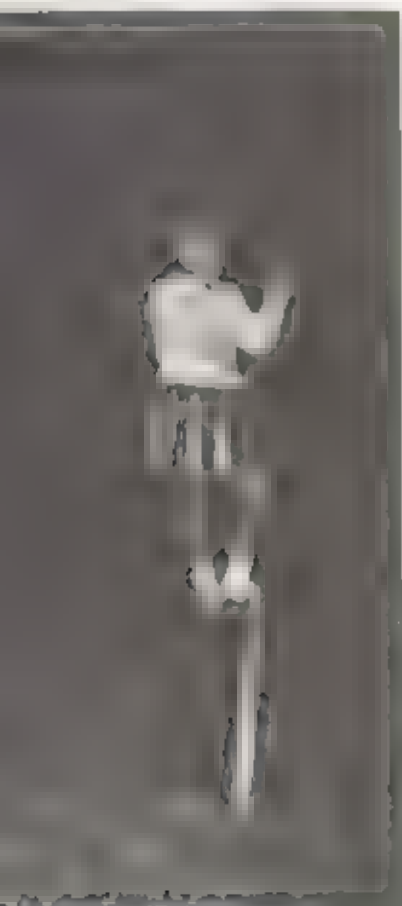

Motions Excel in

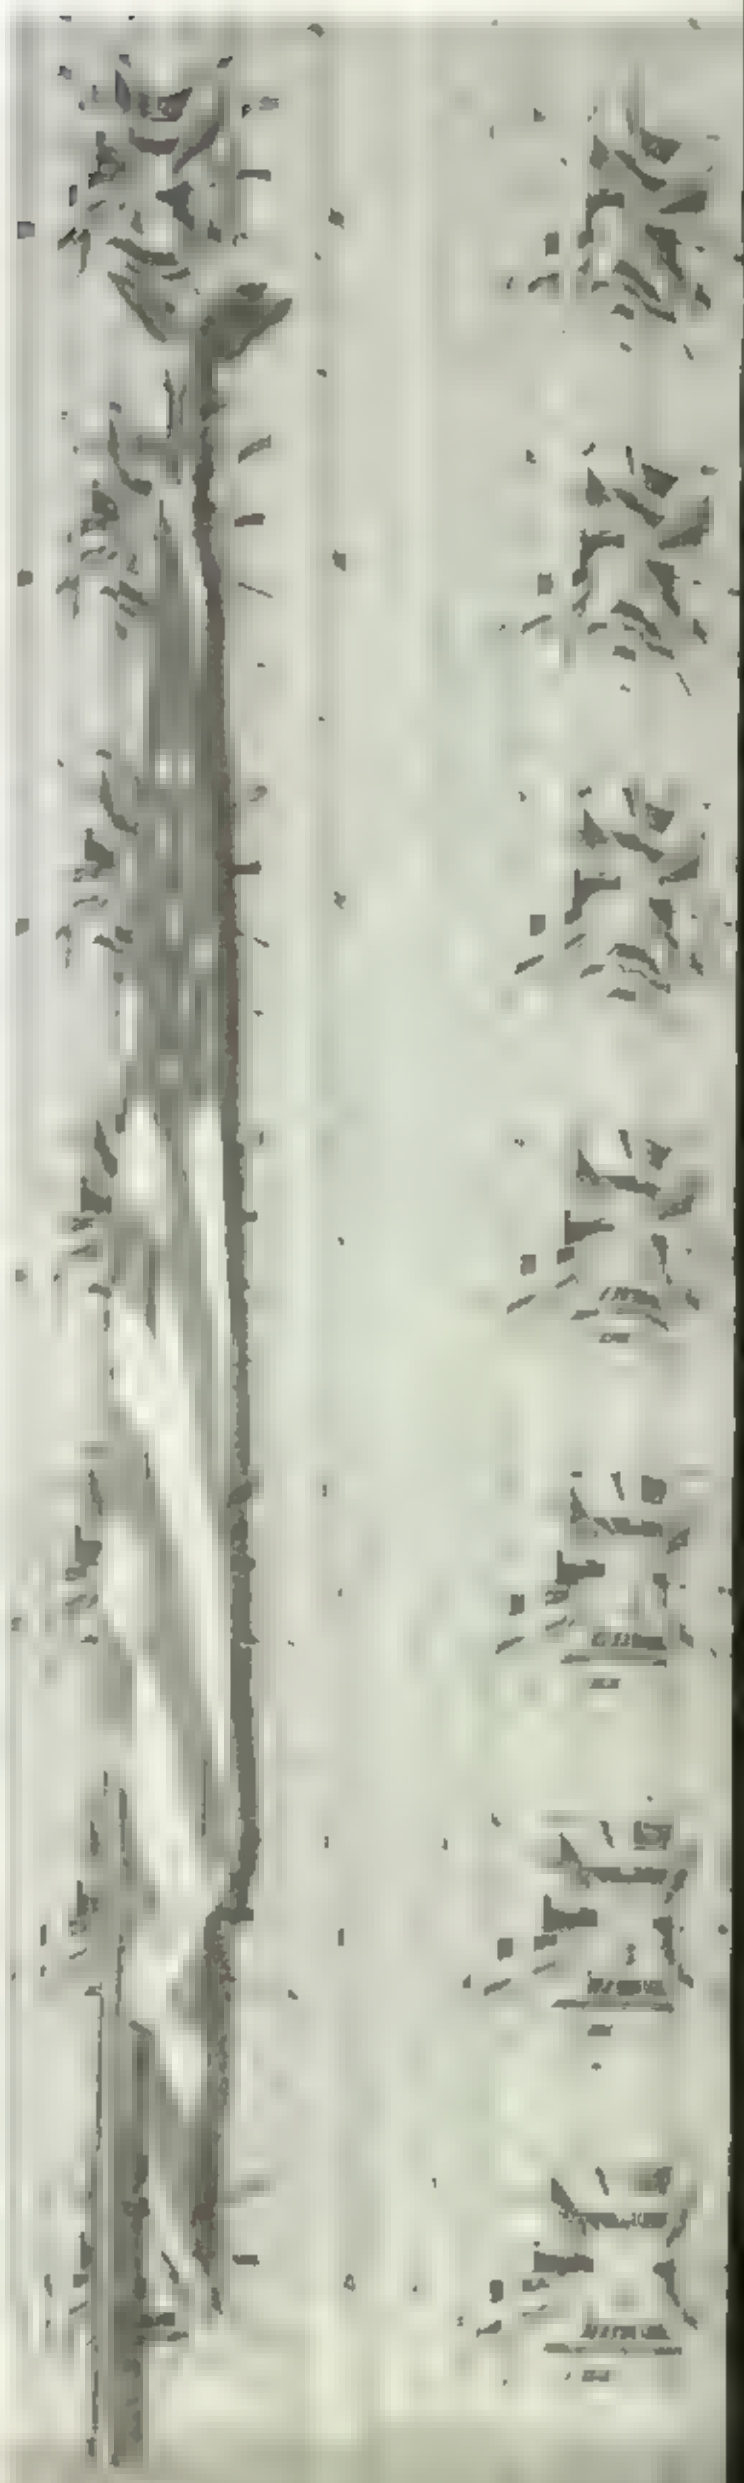

Nineteen sixty-eight is our year at NHS. Time accelerates. We are carried by the swift rush of events and people. Pep rallies inflame our sense of competition. Football fever rages at the sight of a hanging dummy. Yet, amidst this soul-shaking excitement, 1968 finds quiet times. Deep, enduring friendships flower in these moments. We acquire respect for our peers, founding that respect upon the unquestioned dignity of each human being. These are remembered times . . . hours spent riding down country lanes alive with the beauty of nature . . . hours of anxiety lost in the stillness of a church. This is our time, our year, our moment. We live it as we see fit, answering only to our own conscience. Aware that life gives us exactly what we give it, we give our best. . . . In 1968, life gave us the best.

1968

in 1968

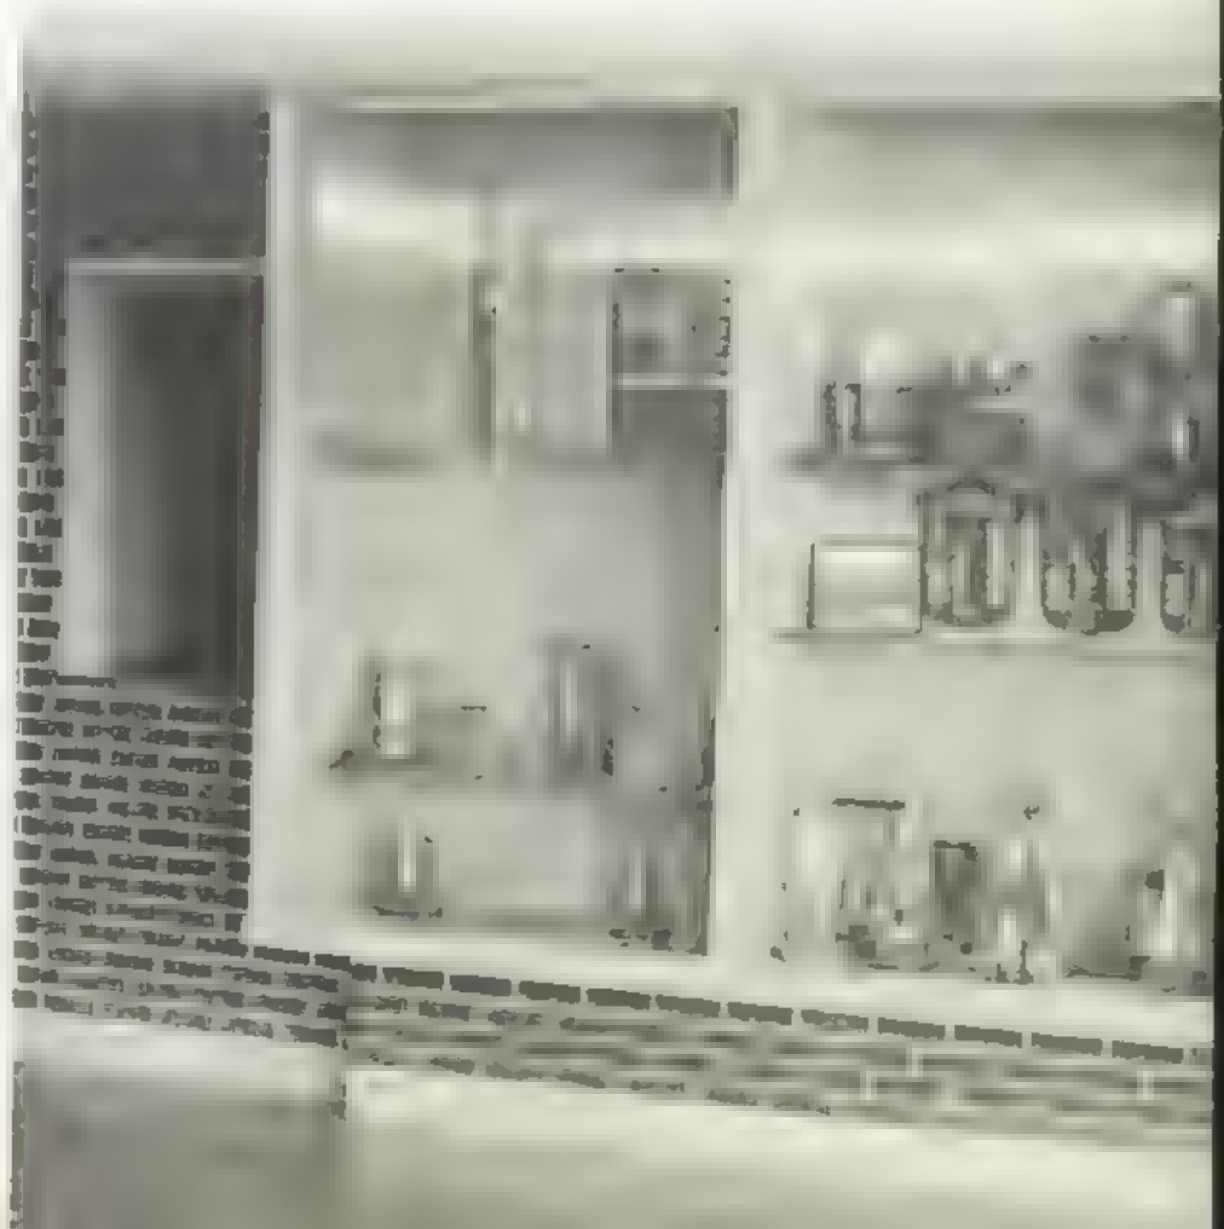

We are organized youth. In 1968 the organizations of NHS thrive. We belong; we are a part of a functioning unit. The work we are doing has value and purpose. Today's youth are faced with various projects. These projects could be anything from prom decorations to preparations for the annual White Christmas Assembly. Our clubs give us the means to express our views, our emotions, and our dreams. Today we are youth; tomorrow we are men and women. The organizations of NHS teach us the true meaning of "honest work, generous comradeship, and the courage of high convictions." As competent individuals we enter the gates of tomorrow

1968 Sparks Competition

NHS is strong in sports and spirit. We like the tough competition other schools hand us. We meet them eagerly on the football field, on the basketball court, and on the track. Time is the only true referee in sports. We race the clock. Its seconds will tick out victory or defeat. No matter what the outcome, Nevada players always represent themselves in true Tiger fashion. They are cheered on by a loyal and enthusiastic group of Tiger supporters. Hustling teams and faithful fans make sports an important part of NHS.

DISCUSSING THE MANY FACETS ... of secondary

FINE ARTS

Fine arts include many things. Speech and debate sharpen the speaking skills of the student. In dramatics he has an opportunity to express himself in the guise of other characters. Art allows expression through painting, woodcuts, ceramics, and sculpture. Driver's education teaches the student the proper aspects of safe driving on today's highways. Chorus provides a chance for expression through song. These courses offer a break in the normal curriculum of the school and allow students to use and enlarge their creative skills.

ENJOYING THE ELEMENTS OF NATURE ... are Miss Molly Murphy (B.S.) and Mr. Bill Tronskie (B.S.), as they watch their creative art students.

DISCUSSING THE ALARMING STATISTICS OF AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS ... are driver education teachers, Mr. Larry Festman (B.S.) and Mr. Des Dehon (B.S. M.S.).

LANGUAGES

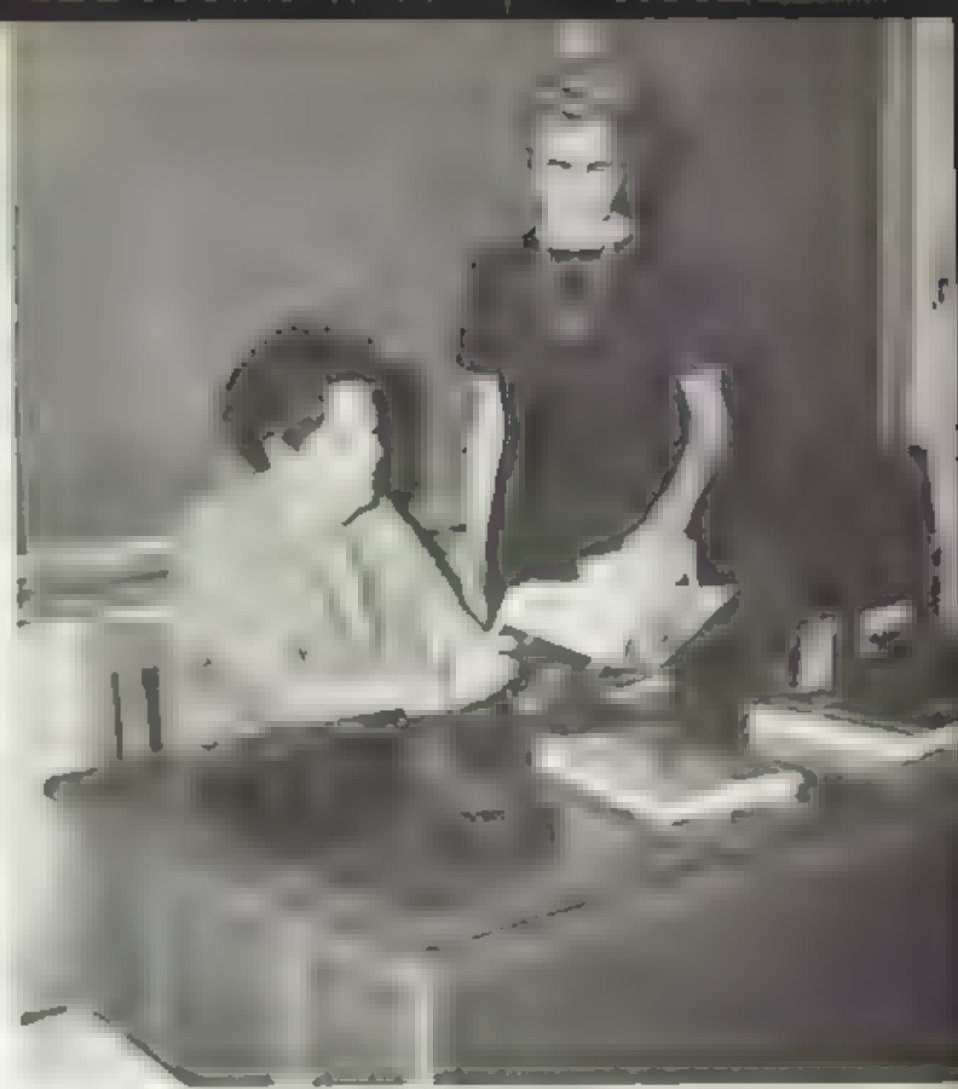

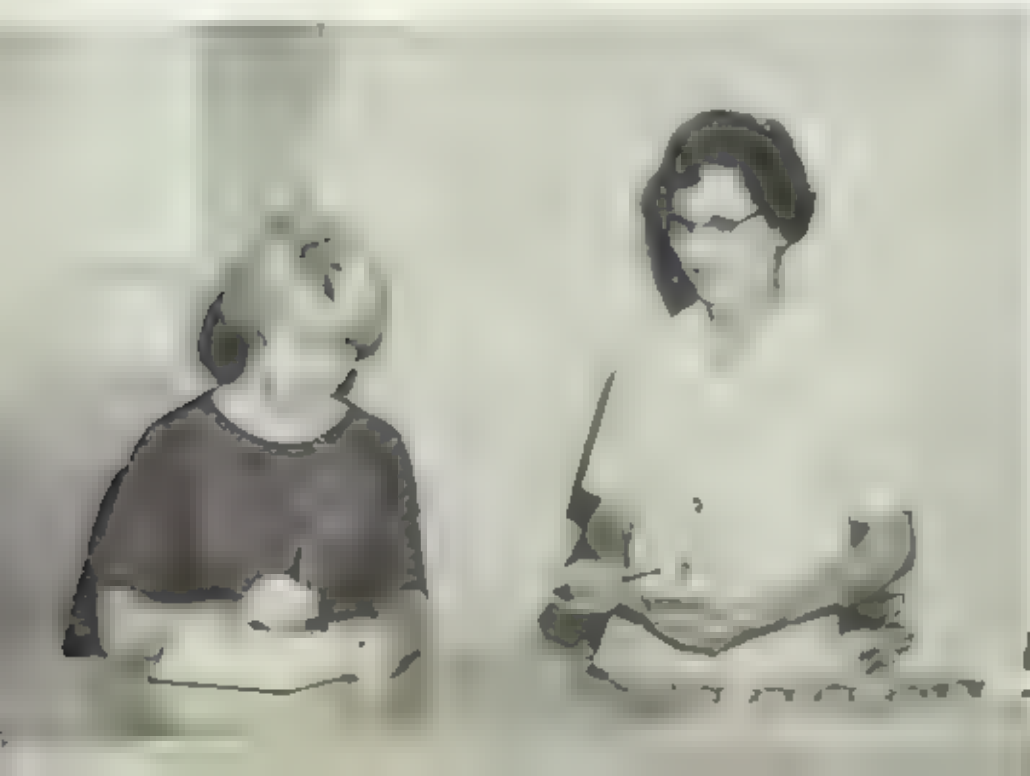

Language links us in common bondage to the peoples of the world. The vernacular of 1968 wears a new face, yet retains the basic quality of traditional communication. Latin, Spanish, and English, three languages from three different eras, are of major importance in an ever-changing world. Latin, the basis of four languages, bridges the gap between the old world and the new. As air travel becomes increasingly common, Spanish acquires additional values, bringing us closer to our South American neighbors. The wide scope of American influence has made the English and foreign language teachers of NHS recognize the far-reaching effects of their careful teaching.

VOCATIONAL SUBJECTS PRECEDE

NHS teachers prepare students for future years in a fast-moving world. Through vocational subjects—secretarial practice, typing, general business, shop, drawing, building trades, and home economics—boys and girls are transformed into young men and women, adequately equipped to meet the future. Tomorrow's homebuilders, homemakers, architects, and businessmen are gaining experience today through the helpful efforts of hard working faculty members.

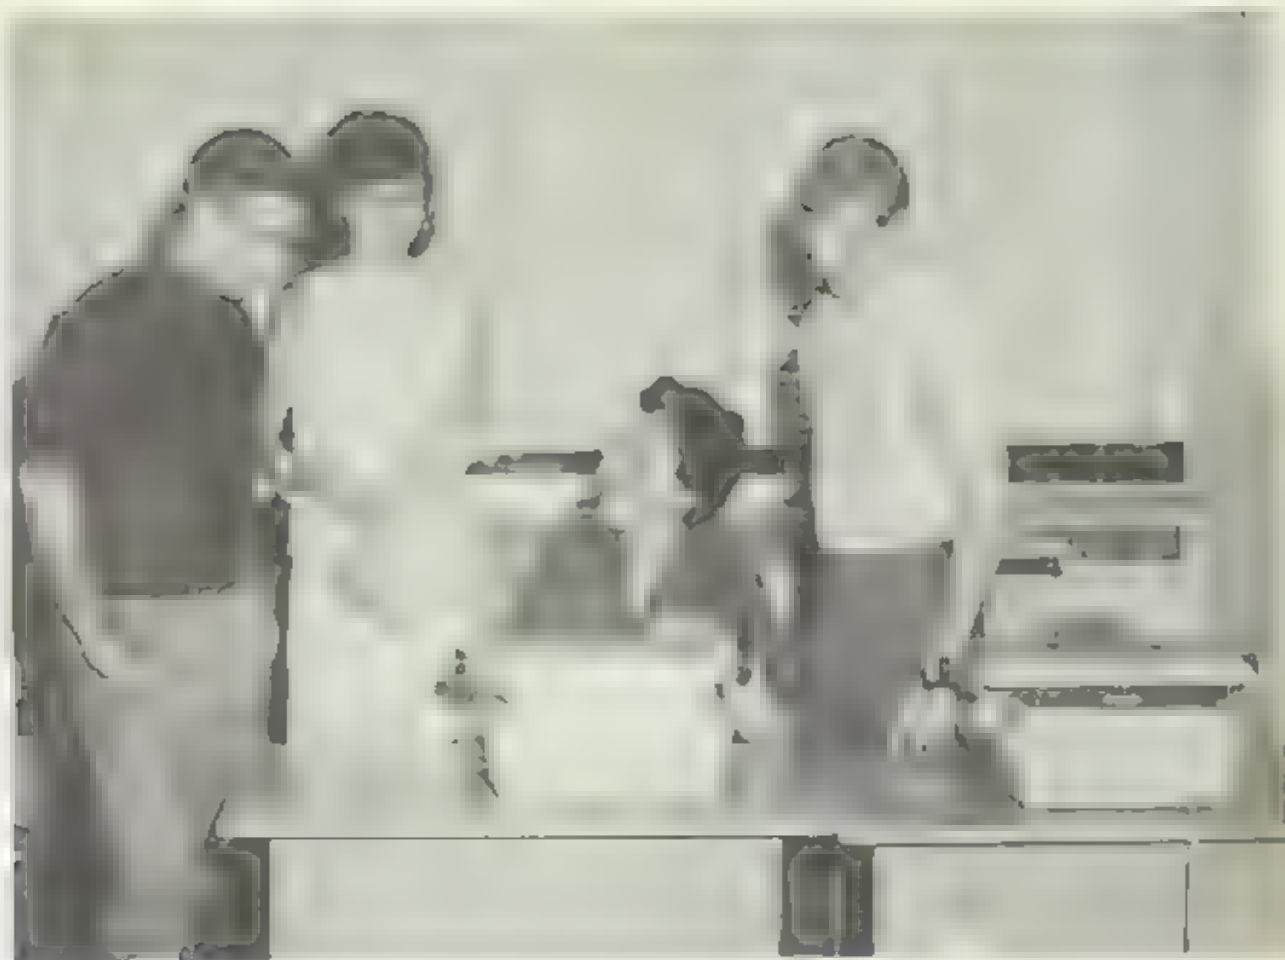

COOKING, SEWING, CHILD CARE, AND HOME-MAKING are taught by home economics experts, Mrs. Barbara Bennett (B.S.) and Mrs. Oneda Erickson (A.A., B.S.).

Our past—exciting, colorful, dramatic—comes alive through video tapes, overhead projectors, and up-to-date maps. By studying the various facets of government, society, economics, and psychology, we gain an understanding of our great heritage. Our social science teachers help us gain a knowledge and understanding of our country. Through them the dates and events are connected and brought to life. History becomes an important part of the lives of NHS students.

SERVICE STAFF MAINTAINS NIHS

Without a dedicated service staff, NHS could not function properly. They put in countless hours of hard work behind the scenes. Often their efforts are taken for granted instead of appreciated. They provide us with meals, keep the grounds in good condition, drive buses, and perform many other tasks important to school life. These workers deserve praise for a job well done year after year.

In many parts of the country, Halloween is a time for vandalism and childish pranks, but at NHS, Halloween means Anti-Van. Anti-Van is a party held from seven until twelve on Halloween night for students enrolled at NHS. Vandalism has all but disappeared in Nevada since the beginning of Anti-Van twenty-one years ago.

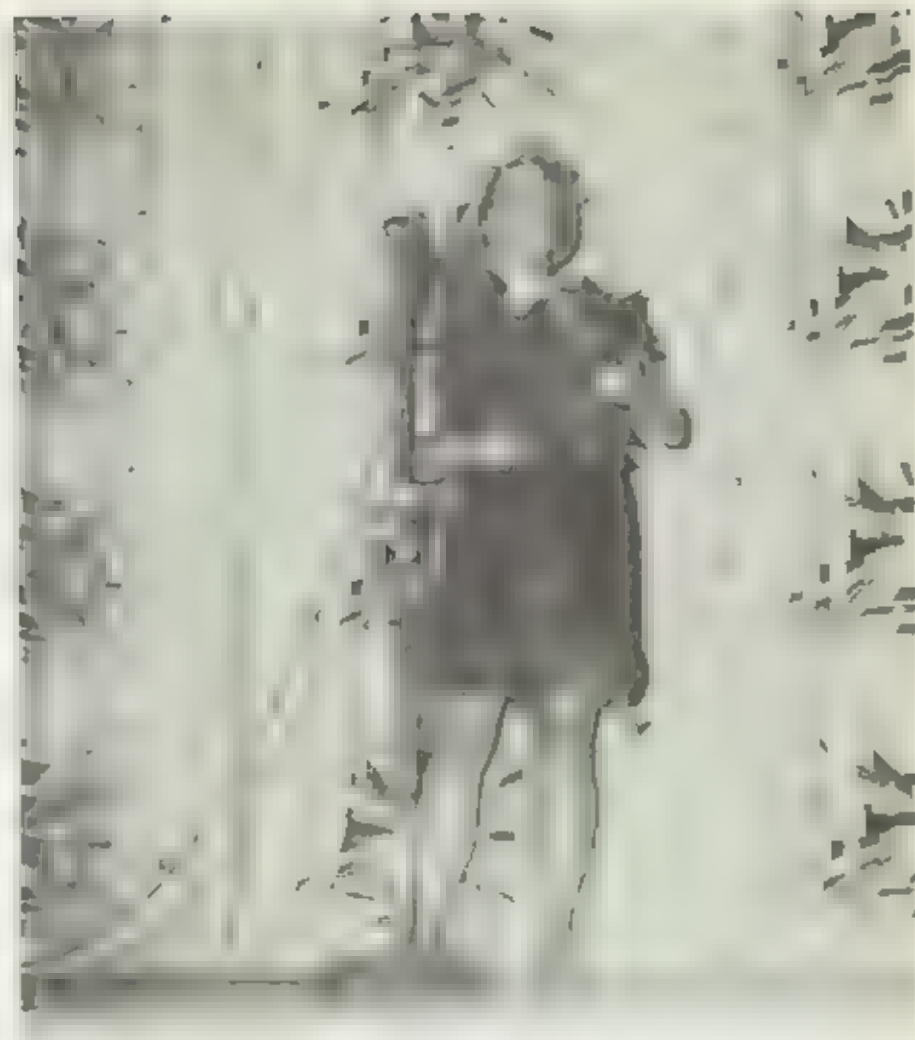

The theme for the 1967 Anti-Van follies was "There Is Nothing Like A Dame." During the course of the evening, show tunes, bubbly songs, spectacular settings and elegantly understated skits, depicted the trials and tribulations of women down through the ages from Eve to Lady Bird. Through song, dance, and dialogue, the twenty-first annual Anti-Van proved to be different and exciting. Under the direction of Mrs. Sondra Emery, the follies were repeated the following night for the general public, with the proceeds of over $200 going to the United Community Fund.

CROWNING JANET WILSON. 1967 Anti-Van is a great event. King Larry Stevenson looks on.

The highlight of the Anti-Van is always the crowning of the king and queen. 1967 proved no different, as excitement spread throughout the auditorium, prior to the crowning. As Larry Stevenson and Janet Wilson started their reign, enthusiastic students went forth to join in the gaiety. When students tired of dancing to the "Gass Company," there were many rooms sponsored by the different school clubs to keep students occupied. Appetites were satisfied with food provided by the PTA, and two movies were shown for students who needed a rest. Through the assistance and cooperation of students and faculty, the 1967 Anti-Van was one that will long be remembered.

Homecoming is a time of reminiscence, of happiness, of sadness, and anticipation of victory. Alumni return to the halls and the fields of their Alma Mater. A victory is gained; a queen is crowned. Tears are shed both in joy and in sadness. The football field is made more glamorous by the reigning queen and her attendants. The contesting teams play with added zest and vigor ... Such was the 1967 Homecoming at NHS.

Homecoming—November 10, 1967—saw the Nevada Tigers suffer defeat at the hands of the Monett Cubs. However, the night was not without its highlights. Miss Margaret Todd was crowned Homecoming Queen by senior end Jim Earnest. Miss Todd's attendants for the evening were Miss Kathy Smith and Miss Janet Wilson. Following the game, the gym rocked with music by the "Wind-up Watermelon" as Tiger fans attended the annual Homecoming dance.

Alice in Wonderland, the darling of childhood, wished her way out of storybook land and cascaded brightly into the 1967 Junior-Senior Prom. Upon arriving, she discovered that the rules of reality-land had been violated in her honor. No longer was the cafeteria plain. It was a breath-taking banquet room filled with a royal court. The gym was a mock Wonderland with twinkling lights, whispering waterfalls, and flor-scent flowers. Music by the Cossacks completed the atmosphere. Then the clock struck twelve. Alice was whisked back to Wonderland by the magic hour. The royal court dismantled, donned shorts and slacks, and headed for the nearest teen hang-out.

On November 30, December 1 and 2, the Junior Class presented "The Night of January 16th" under the direction of Mrs. Sondra Emery. Following court procedure accurately and realistically, the plot concerns a famous murder trial. Karen Andre is tried for the murder of Bjorn Faulkner. Twelve jurors are chosen from the audience. The jury's verdict determines which of the two endings will be used. Not even the director knows until the performance is almost over. During the three-night performance, there were two verdicts of "not guilty" and one of "guilty."

RECORD AUDIENCE LAUDS SENIOR PLAY

"Barefoot in the Park" is a rollicking comedy about a spanking new lawyer and his young bride moving into an apartment to which the only access is six flights of stairs. Everything imaginable is wrong with the apartment, including a hole in the skylight. To add to this confusion, there is a 58 year old European playboy who lives in the attic. This man's idea of a good time is going out to Staten Island in the middle of February to an Albanian restaurant. Confusion reigns when Corie's sweet little innocent mother is found in Mr. Velasco's apartment, clad only in a bathrobe, and when Paul is kicked out of the house with pneumonia. How the newlyweds solve their differences proved to be delightful entertainment for audiences on February 29, March 1 and 2. "Barefoot in the Park" proved further success for director Mrs. Sondra Lacey as 194 tickets were sold to set a new class play record.

"HOW DO YOU LIKE MARRIED LIFE?" ... asks telephone repairman Larry Goss of disgruntled newlywed couple, Bob Garner and Sydney Pascoe.

"KNIGHT IS OVER 2,000 YEARS OLD," ... states David Walter as Sydney Pascoe, Bob Garner, and Linda Dobson look on.

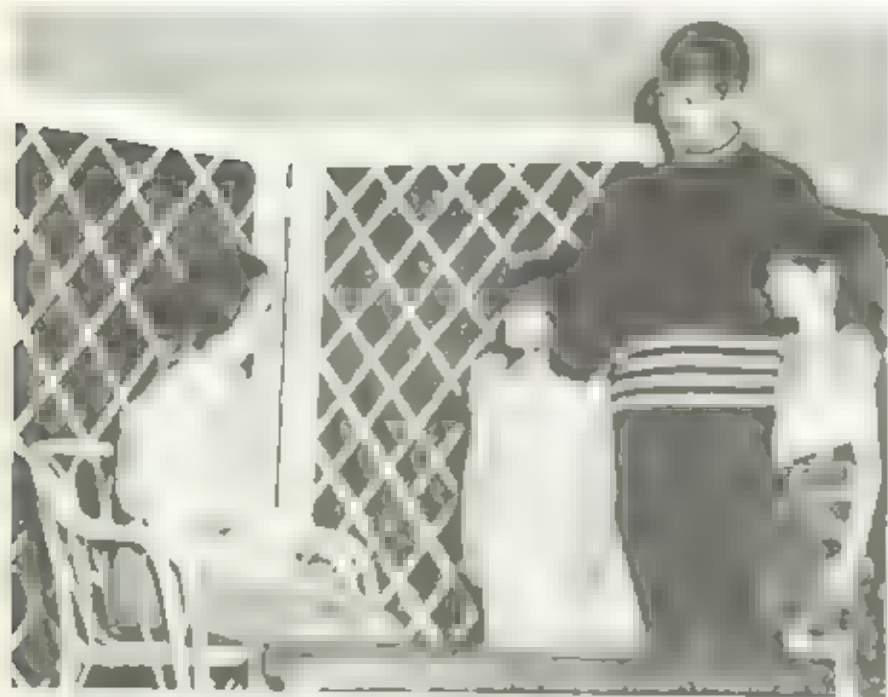

"I'M SORRY ABOUT THE STAIRS," ... consoles Sydney Pascoe to delivery man, Tom Simmons.

"GEE! YOU'RE PRETTY WHEN YOU'RE MEAN AND ROTTEN," ... shouts Bob Garner as Sydney Pascoe.

"SOUTH PACIFIC" CAPTIVATES AUDIENCE

"THESE ARE MY CHILDREN ... Nana, Ensign and Jerome (Jonny Pascoe)," says Ensign (Linda Dobson) to Ensign Nellie Forbush (Susan Brown)

"South Pacific" was the last of many successes for dramatics teacher, Mrs. Sondra Emery, who retired at the end of the 1967-1968 school year. During the four years that Mrs. Emery served at NIS, she felt the reward of satisfaction which comes after having produced a successful play. This success was achieved through her hard work and tireless efforts. "South Pacific" was a tremendous success due to the cooperation of each cast member, who strived to make Mrs. Emery's last production a memorable one. After "South Pacific," Mrs. Emery was honored at the annual Thespian banquet. Awards for the year's performances were handed out at this time, with both Bob Garner and Sydney Pascoe winning two coveted awards. Bob and Sydney were chosen Best Actor and Actress for their performances in the most outstanding play of the year, "Barefoot in the Park." Bob also won Best Supporting Actor for his role in "South Pacific," and Sydney was selected as Best Thespian for her endless work throughout the school year. Linda Dobson won the award for Best Supporting Actress for her performance in "Barefoot in the Park." Everyone will miss Mrs. Emery's guiding influence and friendship. As anyone who has been associated with plays knows, Mrs. Emery was more than a teacher—she was the "best friend a student could ever have."

"WELL, DON'T LOOK SO DRAMATIC ABOUT IT. THINGS LIKE THIS HAPPEN EVERY DAY," ... Nellie assures the nurses as they gather around the shower

"ONE MAN LIKE YOU IN AN OUTFIT IS LIKE A ROTTEN APPLE IN A BARREL," ... shouts Captain Brackett (Ed Emery) to Luther Billis (Bob Garner) as Abner (Larry Carlton), Buzz Adams (Kenny Jones), and Commander Harbison (Bryan Breckenridge) listen in

Mayor for a Day, held on April 16 this year, proved to be a worthwhile experience for the students involved. The chief purposes of the project—to offer students an opportunity to have a practical experience in citizenship and to promote interest in civic affairs—were accomplished.

The election procedure was copied after the city election. Each student in grades 9-12 who wished to run for Councilman filed a petition signed by 25 high school students. A primary election was held to determine the ten candidates to run in the general election. The five candidates receiving the most votes served as City Councilmen for Mayor for a Day. A Mayor and Mayor Pro Tem were elected from these Councilmen. The City Council then selected a City Manager, City Clerk, and City Assessor from those applying for these special jobs. The City Manager, with the advice of the Council, appointed a Street Superintendent, Fire Chief, City Attorney, Park Superintendent, Finance Collector, Police Chief, Police Judge, Project Engineer, Building Inspector, Superintendent of Sewer Plants, Hospital Administrator, and City Librarian.

HONOR SOCIETY IS REORGANIZED

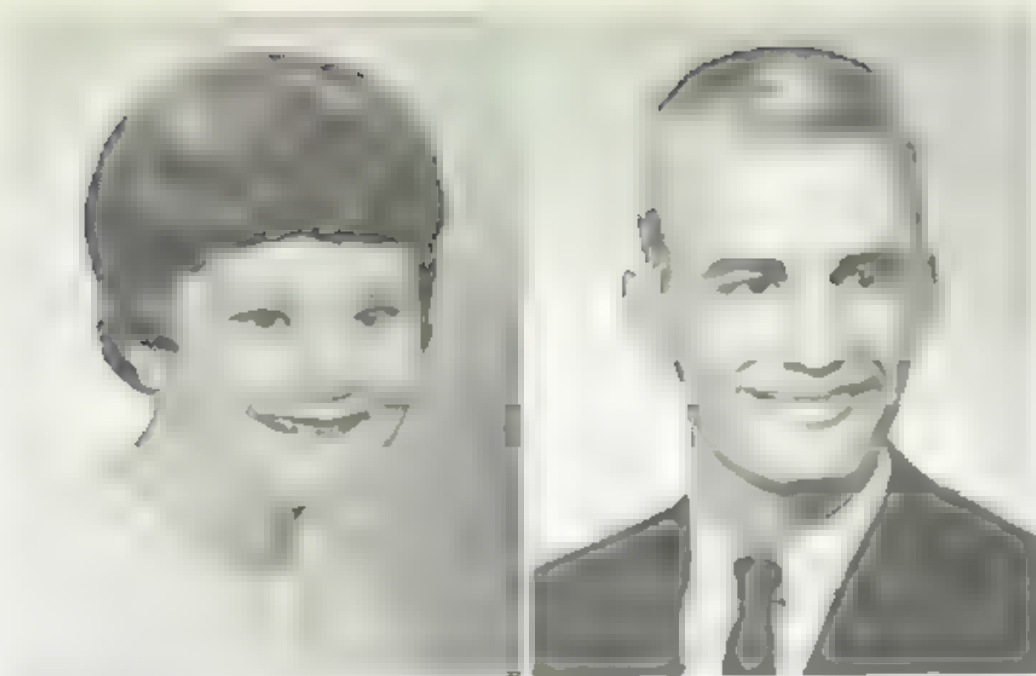

HIGH RANKING JUNIORS AND SENIORS ... prepare for an active year as new members of the National Honor Society

DISCUSSING PROJECTS ... for the National Honor Society are Mr. Joe Barone, sponsor; Doris Huber, secretary; Ed Fuchs, president; and Nancy Baird, treasurer

Membership in the National Honor Society is one of the greatest honors that a student of Nevada High School can receive. The chief purposes of the Honor Society are to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to encourage a desire on the part of the students to render service to the school and to the community, to develop potential elements of leadership, and to foster desirable character traits.

Fifteen per cent of the senior class and five percent of the junior class are chosen by a faculty council. These students are rated on their character, leadership, and service in both the school and the community. They must also be in the upper third of the class and have an S average. The National Honor Society, after a year of inactivity, has been reorganized under the sponsorship of Mr. Joe Barone.

SELECTED FOR THE FRESHMAN AND SOPHOMORE AWARDS are these two outstanding seniors, Doris Hilmer and Jim Nichols.

Being selected for one of the awards in NHS is an honor that everyone desires. However, it is impossible for all of the interested candidates to receive the honors. Therefore, it is necessary for the school to choose deserving representatives for the honors.

Some of the awards are sponsored by civic organizations in the community. The Sophomore Pilgrimage is awarded to a sophomore boy or girl, who is in the upper one-fourth of the class. Three students are selected by teachers and then they are voted upon by the students of the sophomore class. The boys attending Boys' State are sponsored by the American Legion, and the girls selected to attend Girls' State are sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. These awards help the recipients become better citizens and gain constructive attitudes toward the American form of government.

Russell (President), Lee Ann Rice (Secretary), Lee Ann Woodhill (8th Grade President), Rick Johnson (Vice President), Chuck Johnson (Treasurer), Vanessa Conway (8th Grade Vice President), and Mark Gordon (7th Grade President), try to help with the "Letters to Vietnam" program

Through the Junior and Senior High student councils, students take an active part in promoting school activities. Working together, both councils play a large part in the success of Anti-Van. Each council sponsors dances and sock hops throughout the year. The Senior High council sells popcorn and candy at athletic events, in addition to sponsoring the annual AFS dance. A new project taken on this year by the Senior High council was the selling of Tiger seat cushions at athletic contests. The Junior High council has been especially active in the "Letters to Vietnam" program. Because of the Junior and Senior High student councils, NHS is run in a more efficient and capable manner.

NEVAMO CAPTURES MEMORIES

It took a special kind of staff to put out a book like the 1968 NEVAMO. Well-organized and enthusiastic, the staff worked extra hours to meet new quotas. The NEVAMO staff recognized 1968 as a year for changes. The major change was the switch to a fall delivery, making it possible to cover the entire school year. Mondrian Layout Design was introduced on theme pages. Tight restrictions were placed on the staff as they adopted the motto "Don't Tell Nobody Nothin'." Yet other restrictions were removed as the staff chose a modern theme — The Time of Our Lives. The 1968 NEVAMO, because of a special staff, and a special sponsor, became a very special book.

The CRIMSON AND GRAY is a tool of public relations. It portrays various departments of NHS to make students more aware of the techniques and methods involved in teaching. Reporting the results of the ball games, activities of the clubs, and other interests of the students is a never-ending task for CRIMSON AND GRAY sponsor, Mrs. Marie Butner, and her staff of sixteen students. This staff works tirelessly to publish fifteen newspapers throughout the year for students of NHS. Reorganization of a different type is effected in the publication of a newspaper. Writing, make-up, pictorial coverage, and offset pages require well-trained staff members. An addition to the staff and a special period for working on the paper has proved to be an asset this year. Too, students serving on the CRIMSON AND GRAY staff gain valuable knowledge about journalism. This knowledge is used in writing reports for the paper

Promoting spirit and sportsmanship are the goals of Tigerettes. The pep club of NHS is the never-failing supporter of our athletic teams. Throughout 1967-68, the Tigerettes sold Nevada Tiger license plates to loyal school and city boosters. They also sold cokes at football and basketball games. Enthusiasm was displayed by original decorations at Anti-Van and Homecoming. To boost spirit during the basketball season, Tigerettes sponsored a Kitty-Car parade with each school organization presenting a two-foot float. Also, Tigerettes sponsored an awards banquet honoring Senior spiriters. Due to the efforts of Tigerettes, enthusiasm of NHS Tiger boosters spread through the school and community.

SPIRIT

The Sweater Club supports Junior High Tigers. Through displaying posters, holding pep assemblies, and cheering at football and basketball games, its members spread enthusiasm. This year, to promote spirit, the club sold miniature crimson megaphones. Selling tags for the Lion's Club Eye-Sight Campaign, March of Dimes, Disabled American Veterans, and Easter Seals Crippled Children Campaign were community betterment projects of the Sweater Club. A Junior High Cheerleading Clinic was held in the spring for sixth, seventh, and eighth graders. A combination welcome and farewell party was held for Junior High Boosters at the end of the year. The Sweater Club, this 1967-68 school year, supported athletics and promoted spirit in the school and community.

HAS EXCITING YEAR

The Nevada High School marching and concert band was active in the 1967-68 school year. A trip to the Indianapolis 500 highlighted the year. The band practiced tirelessly in the fall to perfect half-time performances. The rhythm of the band's music captured the spirit of the crowds and players, keeping them excited throughout the game. Basketball fans also enjoyed the added excitement and color provided by the Nevada High School band. Pep assemblies for football, basketball, and track gained enthusiasm from the music of the Pep Band.

The band performed in several out-of-town parades. Three concerts, Spring, Christmas, and Sweetheart, were the band's main activities in concert uniform. The Sweetheart Concert was followed by a dance for the band members and their dates. Under the direction of Mr. James Shannon, the Senior High band had a rewarding year.

Interest in athletics for girls spawned the establishment of the Girls' Athletic Association at NHS this year. Mrs. Ruth Vincent and Mrs. Linda Ogle were sponsors of the club. The purpose of GAA was to provide a variety of recreational activity for girls. GAA was a large success in its first year, and increased membership and interest is hoped for in the future.

Through FHA, the members learn the basics of homemaking. The purpose is to further interest in home economics, emphasize the importance of good family relations, and foster the development of creative leadership in the home and the community. The club's activities include a regional meeting, a Christmas party, a Valentine party, and a fashion show. Speeches on grooming, hair-styling, and make-up give the members important tips. By giving the members a chance to learn these, the club is preparing them for a more profitable life.

STUDENTS PREPARE FOR BUSINESS

Preparing for a career in business, the members of the Commercial Club improved their knowledge of the business world. Trips were taken by the club members to the Farm and Home Savings and Loan Association, the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, and the NEVADA DAILY MAIL office. A fortune-telling room at the Anti-Van, a Christmas party, and a picnic in the spring for future members were some of the club's activities. Speeches for the year included those on grooming, make-up, IBM computers, and other machines used in the offices of today.

FTA provides the basis for preparing today's students to be tomorrow's teachers. More and more students are becoming interested in teaching. FTA helps them prepare for the responsibilities of their position. Its activities include the district convention in Springfield, a cook-out as a membership drive, installation and induction of new officers, and an annual Teaching Career Month in April. In the spring, senior members have the opportunity to experience actual teaching in some of the local grade schools. Through the efforts of FTA, today's students will be better prepared to face the problems and responsibilities that accompany a career of teaching.

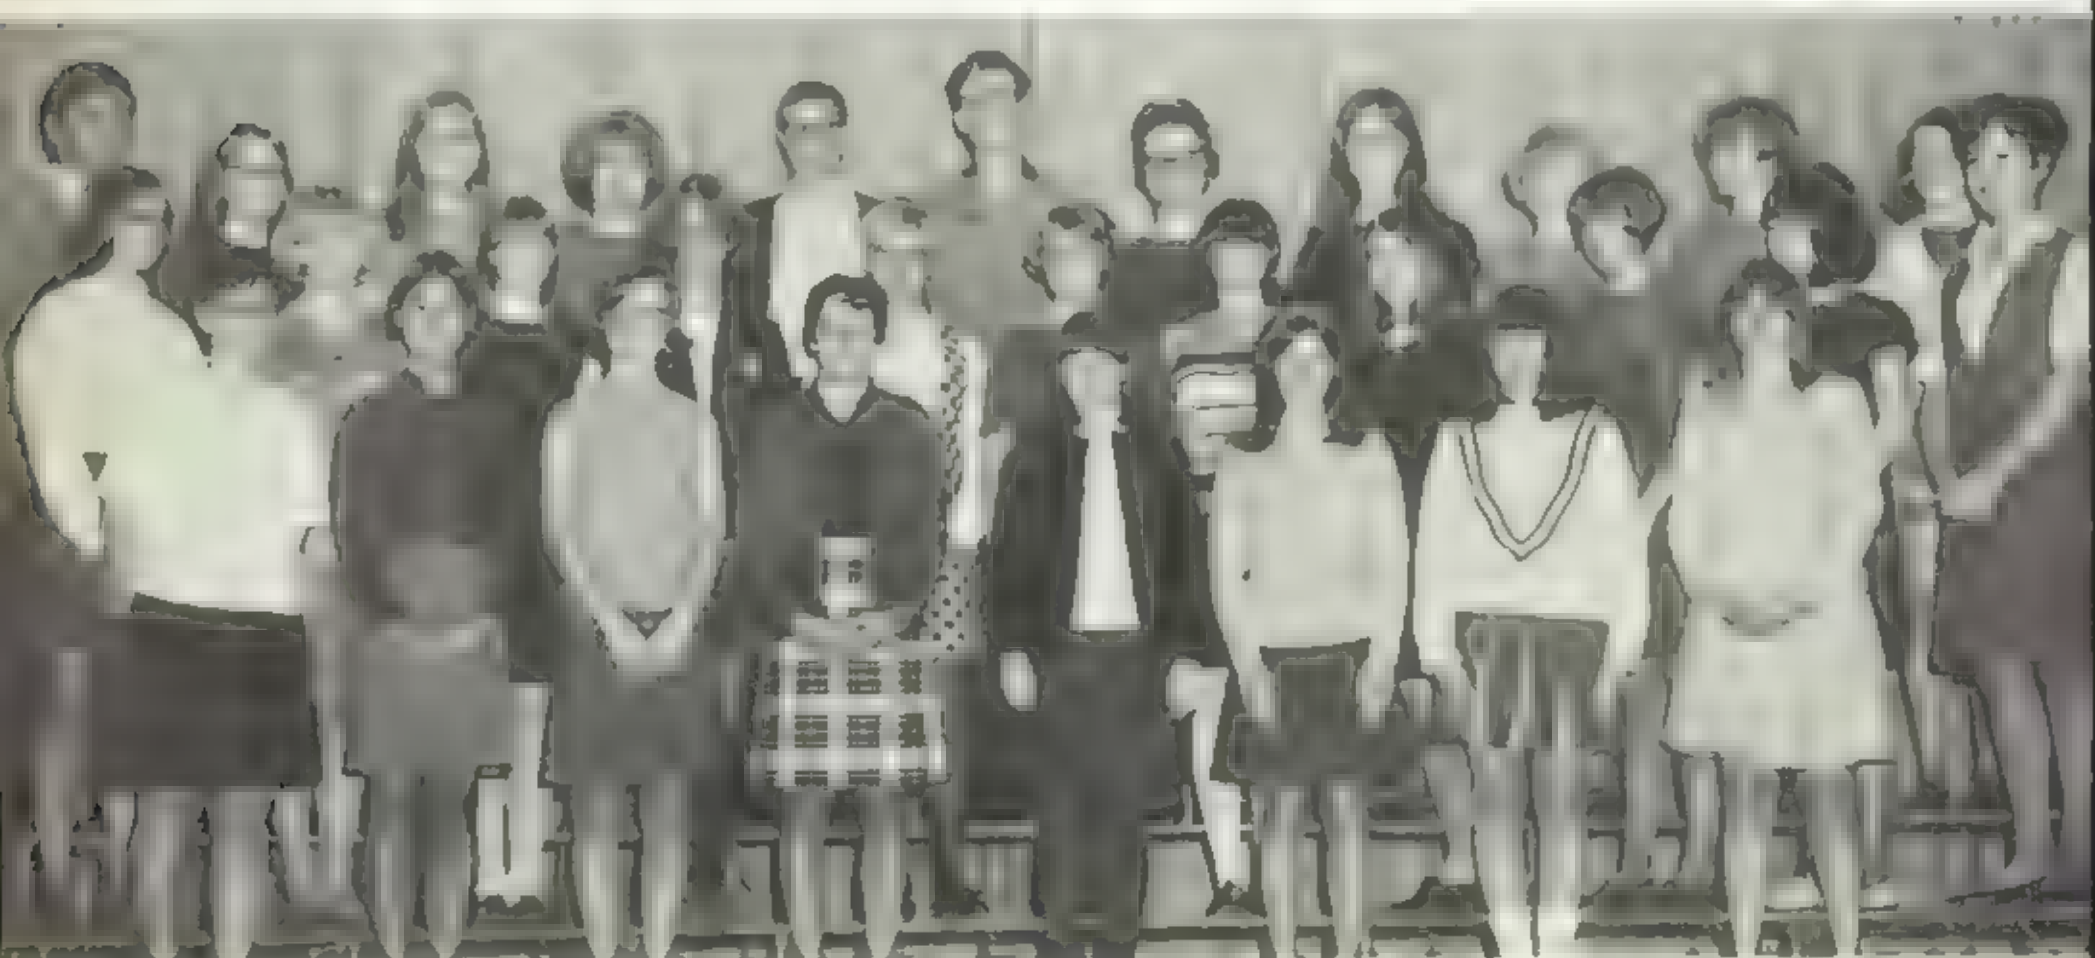

SPANISH CLUB PROMOTES UNITY

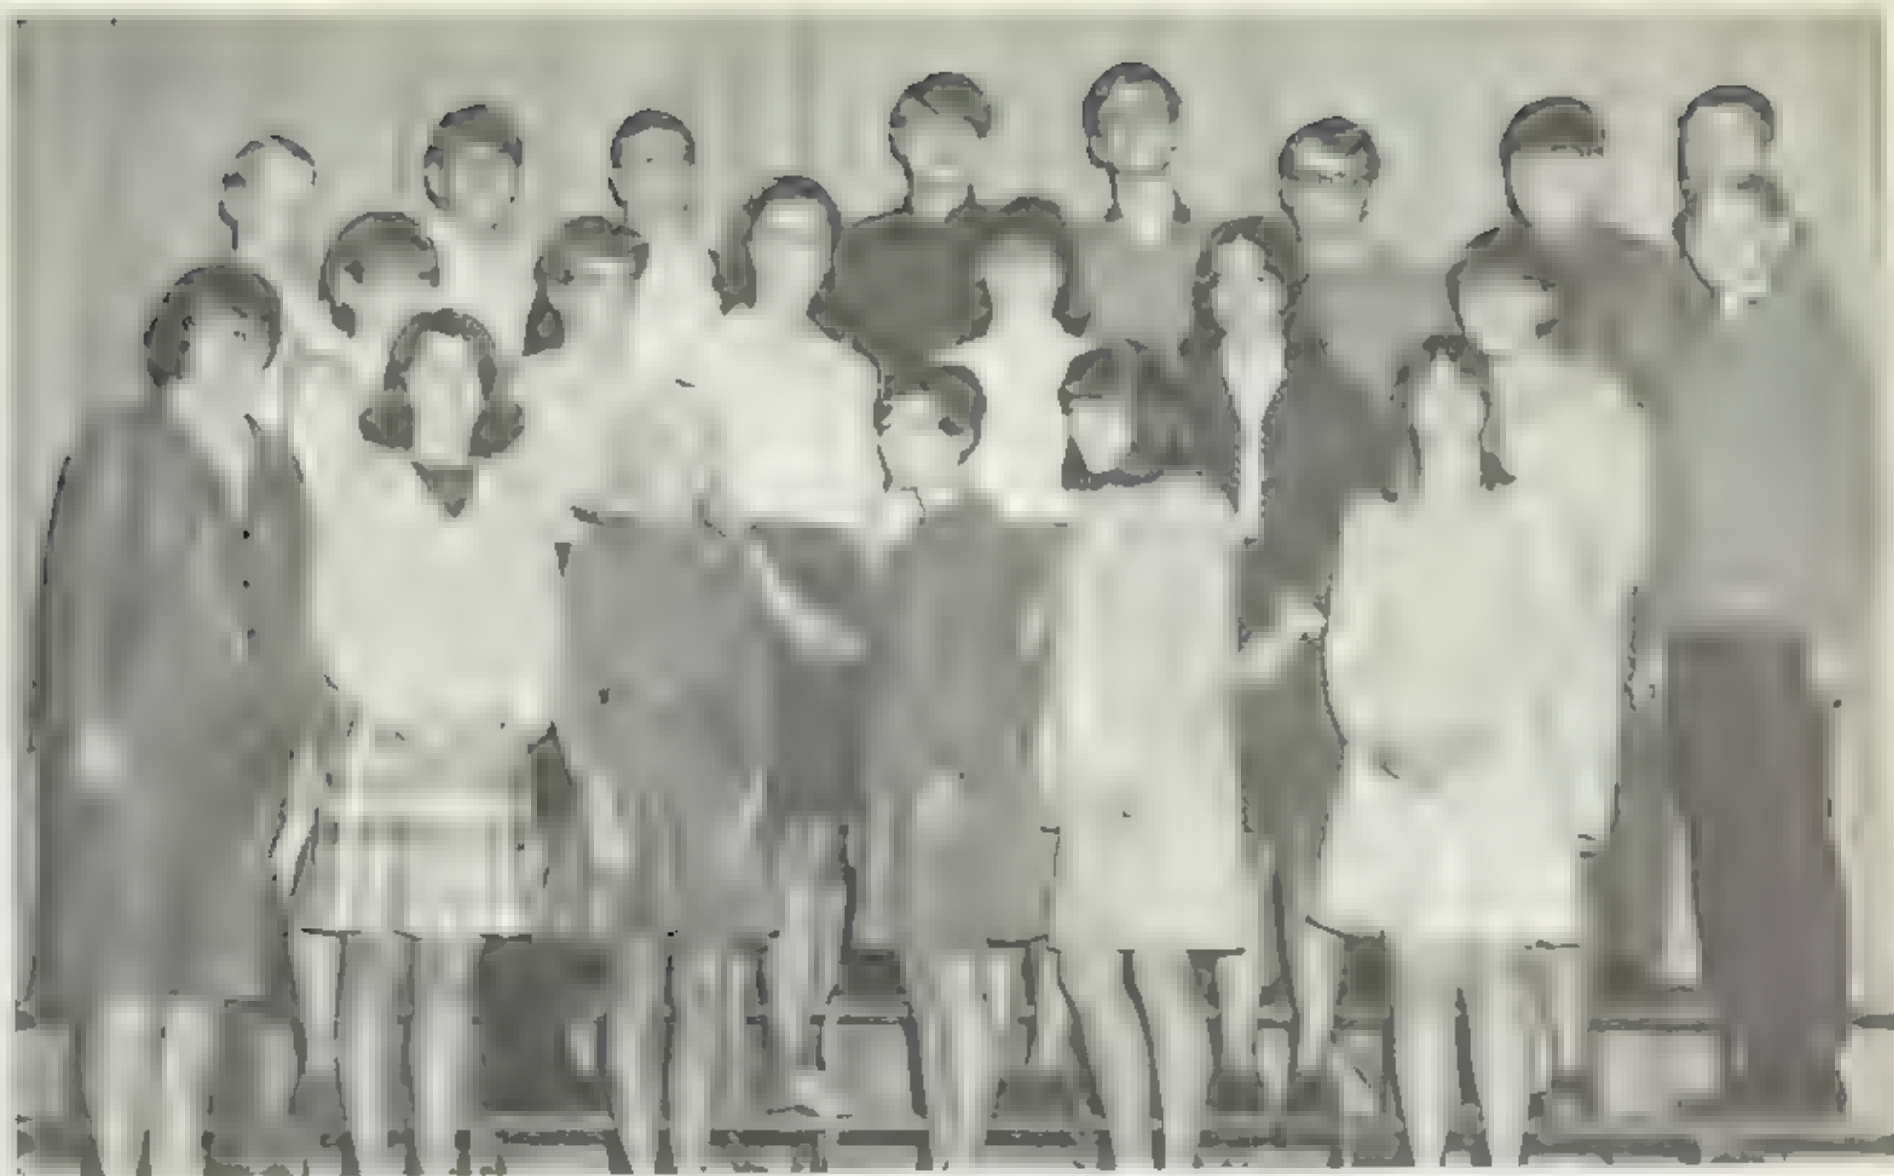

Promoting unity through understanding was the goal of the Spanish Club at 196-63 Spencer. Miss Dorcas Eisk, enthusiastically helped the club accomplish this goal through acquainting the students with Spanish-speaking people and their cultures. Foreign student, Hugo Cruz, furnished an excellent example of a typical Spanish-speaking boy. The reality of the Spanish people was brought to us with the presence of eight Mexican girls from St. Francis Academy and approximately twenty Spanish-speaking residents of Nevada. Some aspects of the Spanish people were portrayed in a winter Christmas fiesta. One of the activities of the Spanish Club is participation in Pan American Day. This supports the club with an effort to make other MOS students aware of their Spanish neighbors.

Aiding Miss Murphy are Debarr officers: Frank Shrewsbury, president; David Walter, vice president; Cathy Kozlowski, secretary; Gary P. Deacy, reporter, and Butch Best, historian. Trips to Silver Dollar City and the Nelson Art Gallery are annual trips taken by the club. Debarr members are privileged to hold the offices of vice-president, secretary, and historian of the Southwest District Art Association which holds a yearly convention in March. Their big social event is an annual Christmas party. Working hard to make Anti-Van a success, Debarr makes 1100 program covers, paints the backdrop for the follies, and makes the thrones and crowns for the coronation. One of their newest activities is the psychedelic room for Anti-Van. Debarr's varied activities benefit the school in many ways.

Through the math, photography, and science clubs at NHS, students can further their knowledge of these highly developed fields. In addition to many field trips taken throughout the year, students also learn about the different instruments needed in fulfilling their ideas. Whether it's working in a dark room, using the slide rule, or visiting the Pittsburgh Planetarium, students learn more about the field of their interest. Math, science, and photography are exciting and difficult. Through the patient efforts of sponsors Mr. Norman Garwood (Math), Mr. Chris Schwanz (Photography), and Mr. Jack Nelson (Science), students make great use of their extra time during the school year.

THE CHALLENGE OF OUR

LIVES

Athletics

We meet challenge constantly, living with time, tradition, and people for our place in a competitive world. In 1967-1968 sports claim a special place in our school life. We are young. Our bodies are strong and hard — toughened by the grueling, sweating hours of practice. We are youth at its best. We excel under the pressure of our rivals. Hard fought games win for us the bread of victory. Nineteen sixty-eight is not a year for the half-hearted. Every ounce of faith and energy must pour from our hearts. Nothing is held back. Today is the time to put forth our finest efforts. Now, while the bitter-sweet spice of competition is fresh in our blood, we fight. From the first jump ball, the crack of the starting gun, or the initial kick-off, we give our best. Sports are a special thing at NIS. Special. Because we recognize them as a dress rehearsal for harder challenges on the battlefield of life.

After losing sixteen lettermen from their undefeated team, the "Dirty Thirty" faced a rebuilding year during 1967. Mixing youth with the nine returning lettermen, head coach Moe Cotter steered his forces through a 1-6-2 record. After tying their first game with Aurora 27-27, the Tigers snapped their 13 game winning streak by losing to Mt. Vernon 21-7. Oscar went back to Lamar in the annual Silver Tiger game by a score of 8-0. Our fighting Tigers fought the then league-leading Webb City Cardinals to a 14-14 tie in a muddy, rain-drenched contest. Nevada journeyed to Neosho and suffered a 27-6 setback. Nevada returned home to defeat Cassville by a score of 20-12. Losing their next two games to Carthage 19-0 and Carl Junction 13-6, the Tigers faced a tough Monett team in the annual Homecoming game. Overcoming injuries and inexperience, the Tigers showed courage throughout the year and indicated a great future for the Nevada Tigers.

YOUNG VARSITY RECEIVES EXPERIENCE UNDER FIRE

The Junior B team battled its way to a 2-2 record. They chalked up wins of 22-0 against Lamar and 32-0 against Butler while taking to El Dorado 6-13 and Ft. Scott 0-12. A lack of depth forced many players to do double duty on both the varsity and B team. Many freshmen also saw considerable B team action. The experience gained by these players will help Nevada in the future.

TIGERS DOMINATE BIG TEN

The Nevada Tigers opened their 1967-68 basketball season by winning the championship of the Carthage Tournament, being the first Nevada team to do so since 1954. The Tigers defeated Carl Junction, Carthage, and Neosho to win the first-place trophy. Nevada chalked up a conference victory over Aurora and a non-conference win over Belton before dropping their first loss of the year to powerful Springfield Central. A disappointing conference loss to Mt. Vernon and a victory over El Dorado Springs brought the Tiger season to 5-2 before entering the Neosho Holiday Tournament. The Tigers beat Monett and Webb City before they suffered a heartbreaking 2 point loss to Wheaton. The Tigers bounced back the next night and beat a strong East Newton team to win third place in the tournament. Nevada then began a string of crucial conference games, drawing wins over Lamar, Webb City, and Neosho before losing a hard-fought contest to Cassville. Tiger spirit did not slacken as Nevada drew conference blood from Carthage the next week. The Tigers then swept a three-game week by downing Pleasant Hill, conference foe Carl Junction, and Clinton. Nevada wound up regular season action with a convincing victory over Monett to bring the conference co-championship to Nevada with a 7-2 conference record. The Tigers ended the season with a loss in regional play to Springfield Parkview to bring the overall Tiger record to 17 wins and 5 losses.

The "B" tigers then began a string of wins, dropping Mt. Vernon, El Dorado, Lamar, and winning a thriller over Webb City by 1 point. The baby Tigers dropped a close game to Neosho but followed up with a win over Cassville before entering the "B" team conference tournament with a 7-2 record. Nevada defeated Carl Junction in their first round game. They lost a close game to host-team Monett which sent them into a battle with Cassville for third place. The Tigers lost an overtime contest to Cassville to take fourth place in the Tournament. The "B" team also played Carthage during the tournament week and pulled out a close game by 2 points. The Tigers won their next three starts, drawing wins over Pleasant Hill, Carl Junction and Clinton. They dropped their last game of the year in an overtime to Monett to bring their overall mark to 12 wins and 5 losses.

Defending Big Ten Champions underwent a year of experience and of growth. Yet, they were unable to remain the Big Ten Champions. Even so, the squad added depth, which speaks for future promise. The young Tigers did extend the string of consecutive dual-meet victories to twenty-six. The season closed with the Tigers placing fifth in the 1968 Big Ten meet, losing their crown to Neosho. Track men with great potential attended the District Meet at Springfield. The 1968 track season marked the retirement of one of the nicest and most dedicated members of the Tiger coaching staff. Coach Jack Nelson left Nevada to take a job in private industry in Arkansas. NHS wishes the best of everything to one of the greatest friends NHS students will ever have.

Jaime Hugo Ramon Lauz Quiroz from Peru became Nevada High School's third foreign exchange student. To his American friends he was known simply as Hugo. Hugo lived with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Peterson and his American brother, Eddie, while visiting our country. Hugo arrived the first day of school and immediately began to find out what America and NHS were like. His major difficulty at first was overcoming the language barrier, but a winning personality and a ready smile assured him of many friends. His interests included table tennis, hunting, reading, drawing, soccer, volleyball, and track. He studied American history, English, speech, typing, and economics during the school year. In January, Hugo spoke in an assembly about the American Field Service and his native Peru. He also told us that the purpose of the AFS is to improve cooperation and understanding between countries. During the school year, Hugo participated in Spanish Club and student council. One of his most exciting experiences was getting to see two games of the World Series and visiting Gaslight Square in St. Louis. When summer came, Hugo's friends were sad to see him return to his country, but the "ugly Peruvian" will long be remembered at NHS.

NHS gained a second foreign exchange student during the last semester of the year. He was Mauricio Herrmann Dominquez from Guatemala City, Guatemala. Mauricio spent the first semester of the year in Sedalia, but upon arriving in Nevada, he immediately began making friends among the students here. He lived with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Thorpe and their son Todd.

SCHOLARSHIP INSPIRES TOP 10%

INTELLIGENCE, ACTIVITY, AMBITION, AND APPLICATION produced the top two seniors of NHS: Valedictorian, Doris Hiller, and second honor, Jane Foster, quietly reminiscence about past experiences.

Knowledge stimulates scholarship for high-ranking seniors of 1968. The Top 10% is determined by class rank, which is based on grade averages of seven semesters of high school work. Determination to succeed and application to studies characterize those students who achieve top scholastic ratings. The seniors in the Top 10% lay a sound foundation for a bright, successful future.
